18 Fire buckets with identified historical motifs are very rare. 13" leather bucket "Franklin Fire Society - Charlestown - Protection in Danger", with owners name below - ( ) Tufts - only a couple letters in first name are legible. Central device is a large cenotaph (memorial urn) with initial W. This urn motif was used on a variety of medals, ceramics, prints and textiles circa 1800, in the months following Washington's death. The most famous of these was a painted wooden one from a Massachusetts church, which sold for $25,300 in a 1991 auction. (Photocopy info included). Some paint wear, but about 90% intact. The handle is a period replacement from first quarter 19th century. Charlestown is part of Boston. A most unusual rarity. Flower/thistle at bottom. The 99th (Duke of Edinburgh's) Regiment was raised in 1824 and existed independently until 1881, and I would date this piece circa 1830's - 50's. McKinley was obviously of Scottish ancestry and apparently of Jacobite persuasion. Superb condition. Really wonderful! 900.

515 Very large painted tin tray 22 X 30, Death of Nelson at Trafalgar. Paint loss as seen in photo, mainly at top center and lower right, fortunately not affecting the central scene. Excellent color and detail, circa 1805-1835. If this was at a London show it would probably be 1,000 pounds (about $2,000). Most reasonable at 700.

516 Very attractive bandana 21 X 24, Kaiser Wilhelm II and wife circa 1880's. Light brown stain lower center, otherwise excellent. 125.

Black iron press mounted with 2¼ circular seal that depicts the all-seeing eye encircled by "San Francisco Committee of Vigilance - May 16 1856". About 80% original paint, with gold edging and a great red/blue/gold American eagle and shield painted on the cylindrical neck that holds the seal die. Accompanied by various historical info on the C of V, as well as a photocopy of the exhibition tag when the seal was displayed at the 1934 historical exhibition at Larkin Hall which celebrated the founding of San Francisco. 6,750.

524 Marvelous California Gold Rush folk art. A metamorphic booklet accomplished entirely in watercolor with pen & ink poems. Each of the string bound pages is cut across the center, so that the scene changes by flipping over half of the page. Allegorical stuff about an eagle and baby, man settles his affairs and leaves his home for California. Final panel (enlarged at right) shows him on horseback with huge bag labeled "Gold Dust" "Returned from Californias shore - Again I've gold and silver store - What worldly care can trouble me - Turn down the leaf and you will see". Since its framed I don't know what fate awaits him - most likely a wife and child. Individual pages 5 X 8, unit as shown 8 X 16, nicely framed to 17 X 25. A couple of the tiny string holes have worn, but overall superb condition. 5,250.

525 Exquisite miniature watercolor on ivory (sepia, gray and white tones, Kno-Shr, Kansas Chief. Nearly identical to a spectacular daguerreotype of him in the Gilman Paper Co. Collection (photo of dag enclosed with this item). 3 X 3½ in great frame 4½ X 5. Pristine condition, 1850's - 60's. 2,250.

555 A most unusual manuscript document circa 1800, probably from Georgia. The writer ("RC") swears that he will truthfully explain all "talks" by Indian agent Daniel Murphy, as well as all Indian responses, that he will not add or change anything, and that he will inform the agent of everything he learns while in the (Cherokee?) Nation. Blank reverse with later file notation "Indian Affairs 1802". Some foxing, but writing very bold, with quaint spelling. Fine. A most unique document. 475.

A Merry Christmas From Annie Oakley". Apparently this photo of her was the prize, and she inscribed it to the winner. She and Frank visited the Wentworth (in Portsmouth, NH) several times for exhibition shooting. I don't think this pose of her has ever been published. Excellent. 4,750.

A COUPLE VERY SPECIAL LATE ADDITIONS TO FILL PAGE

569 This was difficult to photograph, but in person its lovely, excessively rare, and in pristine condition. Gentleman's wax sealer with 1" X 3/4" carnelian intaglio of "Thomas Jefferson", name in ribbon beneath portrait. Carnelian is an orange-red hardstone used in jewelry. 2" ringed gold mount for carrying on watch chain or chatelaine. Circa 1780's - 1820's. 6,500.

570 One of the rarest types of dark blue Staffordshire is the "medallion" series, which features oval portraits of Washington, Jefferson, Clinton or Lafayette in various combinations around the rim, encircling different American or English pictorial views. Most pieces sell in the $10,000+ range. An enterprising American potter (nobody knows who he was) copied the medallions in black and put them on a variety of thick, heavy pitchers. I have several in my own collection, and recently purchased a duplicate, offered here.
Extremely rare buff ground 6 ½" pitcher with portraits Jefferson, Lafayette and Washington, circa 1824. Maroon trim on rim and handle. These were a bit crudely made, so there are always small blemishes and inconsistencies in the surface and glaze, but its in perfect condition, as made. Note that the dark area at the bottom of the photos is just a shadow and is not on the pitcher. 7,250.

What ROOSEVELT THINKS OF THE
German-American Alliance
"THE UNITED STATES SENATE HAS STRUCK an effective blow against the Huns within our gates by unanimously voting to REPEAL THE CHARTER OF THE
GERMAN-AMERICAN ALLIANCE
The Alliance has been thoroughly mischievous in its activities. It has acted in the interest of Germany and against the interest of America. It has tried to perpetuate Germanism as a separate Nationality with a separate language in the United States. It has attacked our allies; it has encouraged disloyalty;
IT WAS DECORATED BY THE KAISER
for its service to Germany. It has endeavored to prostitute our politics to German needs. I have personally had the honor of being specially singled out by it for attack.
IT RECEIVED MONEY FROM THE BREWERS' ASSOCIATION
FOR THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST PROHIBITION
At the time when the campaign of German frightfulness is in full blast, when the Prussianized Germany of the Hohenzollerns is steadily adding to its list of literally unforgivable offenses against civilization,
There is no room in this country for any organization, great or small, which either defends Germany or is lukewarm in the great crusade against her in which America will henceforth play a leading part."
